Lists of selected materials for Elementary and Secondary Social Studies have been prepared. The titles listed represent a compilation of recommendations received from many teachers throughout the province. The lists are presented as recommendations; they are not prescriptive. Many other useful titles may be employed as Social Studies references as well. Teachers are reminded that they are responsible to their employing school board for all materials used.

RECOMMENDED RESOURCES FOR SOCIAL STUDIES

The following lists of publications are those which may prove useful to teachers in the junior high social studies. The lists are by no means exhaustive, however they represent a reasonable sample of materials which classroom teachers have found useful.

No attempt has been made at the present time, to evaluate materials other than books, due to the difficulty of establishing suitable criteria for their evaluation; and the difficulty of obtaining accurate information about the various other media available.

Prices are those current at the time of printing. Discounts may be available on some publications, while prices may be escalated on others. Canadian suppliers occasionally change but every attempt has been made to up-date the list of suppliers.

NOTE: Publications may be ordered from the School Book Branch.

Teachers are reminded that they are responsible to their employing school board for all materials used in the classroom.

NOTE: In the resource lists which follow, series titles have been included, where applicable, to facilitate ordering of specific reference works. The listing of a series title does not necessarily mean that the entire series is being recommended.

REFERENCES FOR GRADE VII SOCIAL STUDIES

Students' resource materials are listed in alphabetical order by author followed by a list of suppliers after each grade section.

Student References for Grade VII Social Studies

Baker, E.Z.

The Australian Aborigines
Steck-Vaughn Co.
Canadian Agent is:
McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited
330 Progress Avenue
Scarborough, Ontario
1968 $3.25 (U.S.)

A depth study. Some of the areas considered are: who are the aborigines? daily life, weapons and hunting, beliefs, myths and ceremonies, music, dancing and painting, and the aborigines today. Good illustrations. For average readers.

Baldwin, G.C.

Stone Age Peoples Today
George J. McLeod Ltd.
73 Bathurst Street
Toronto 2B, Ontario
1964 $5.80

A survey book. One of the best student books that looks at stone age people in existence today. Each of the eleven cultures provides living evidence of the way of life of our own ancestors, and each is a fascinating laboratory of primitive arts, crafts, and customs. Easy reading level.

Barr, D.

How and Why Wonderbook of Primitive Man
Grosset (Wonder Books)
Canadian Agent is:
George J. McLeod Ltd.
73 Bathurst Street
Toronto 2B, Ontario
$1.75

Presented in a clear, readable style at an elementary level, and well illustrated, the How & Why Wonderbook of Primitive Man is well accepted by students. It reveals how archeologists, anthropologists, geologists, combine their discoveries to help fill in the gaps with information that is needed to get a clearer picture of early man. Touches on different kinds and different appearance of man, yet brings out our common ancestry and that "all men are brothers".

Bateman, W.L.

How Man Began
Beacon Press
Canadian Agent is:
Saunders of Toronto Ltd.
1885 Leslie Street
Don Mills, Ontario
1966 $3.50 (U.S.)

An excellent reference, easy to read, well-illustrated, which deals with man's evolution, the races of man, language; and what lies ahead for man. Well-bound.

The Sea Hunters - 1951
The Zulu - 1970
The Tuareg - 1964

Depth studies. This series has succeeded in combining authentic facts with a fictional presentation of unusual interest to produce a picture of cultural life. An excellent series for the less able readers and further motivation of students.

Burland, C.

Men Without Machines
Doubleday Publishers
105 Bond Street
Toronto 200, Ontario
1969 $6.95

A survey book. A good cultural survey of twenty-three primitive groups around the world and how their cultures developed without technology. Excellent pictures and illustrations. Reading level may be difficult; nevertheless the book is very popular with students.

Burland

What Became of the Maori
Pergamon Press Ltd.
Heddington Hill Hall
Oxford, England
1969 $2.50

Depth study. This book clearly explains, often in great detail, the social patterns of village life and the cultural beliefs. In its final chapters the book shows the dramatic advancement of the Maori in recent years and how they and the Pakela (European New Zealanders), though living two different pasts, have one great common future. Average reading level.

Elting, M.

The Hopi Way
M. Evans & Co. Inc.
Canadian Agent is:
McClelland & Stewart Ltd.
25 Hollinger Road
Toronto 16, Ontario
1969 $3.95

This book was illustrated by Boui Mofsie, a teacher whose father was a Hopi Indian. A depth study written in story form, it tells of his visit to the Hopi Reservation when he was young. This is written in a very interesting style and can be understood by the student who has reading problems.

Farnham, K.

Investigating Our World Series
Gage Educational Publishers Ltd.
P.O. Box 5000
164 Commander Boulevard
Agincourt, Ontario
The Pygmies of the Inturi Forest
1972

Depth study. An excellent book which attempts to develop both skills and a knowledge base. The book also explores values in both an analytical manner and through comparison with our own culture. The teacher's guide is good, with many useful suggestions particularly for questioning. The approach used is anthropological. Excellent illustrations. Easy reading level.

Gunn

Babun, E.

The Varieties of Man
Crowell-Collier
Canadian Agent is:
Collier Macmillan Canada Ltd.
539 Collier Macmillan Drive
Galt, Ontario
1969 $3.48

In his short, but illustrated account of the latest scientific findings and theories about the races of man the author describes the evolution of the five major racial groups - Caucasoid, Negroid, Mongoloid, Capoid and Australoid. This introduction to anthropology explains why racial differences were vital to the success of our species in its earliest stages of evolution and how racial equality has become an established fact. Well illustrated. Average reading level.

Baldwin, G.C.

How Indians Really Lived
Longman Canada Limited
55 Barber Greene Road
Don Mills 403, Ontario
1967

Large print, easy to read. Removes some misconceptions about Indians. Survey type with a limited index and table of contents. Good illustrations.

Jenness, E.

The Indian Tribes of Canada
Ryerson Press
McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited
330 Progress Avenue
Scarborough, Ontario
1969 $1.95

In this survey book the native tribes of Canada have been arranged into seven geographical groups. Though environments and languages differed in each case, the general customs and the broad manner of life was the same. For better readers. Limited illustrations.

Mead, M.

People and Places
(Bantam Pathfinder Edition)
Bantam Books of Canada Ltd.
888 Dupont Street
Toronto 174, Ontario
1959 $0.75

The author deals in general with the development of man as a human being. Then the following cultural groups are considered: the Eskimo, the Indians of the Plains, the Balinese, the Minoans of Crete, and the Ashanti--in terms of their basic needs and development in each particular environment. Average reading level.

Power, A.H.

Eskimos of Canada
Collier-Macmillan Canada Ltd.
539 Collier Macmillan Drive
Galt, Ontario
1971 $1.00

Describes the life and culture of the Eskimo before the coming of the Europeans. It then shows changes brought about by the whale hunters, missionaries, and fur hunters. Average reading level.

Powers, W.K.

Indians of the Northern Plains
Longman Canada Limited
55 Barber Greene Road
Don Mills 403, Ontario
1969

A comprehensive examination of the cultures of the Plains tribes. Emphasis is placed on the culture and day-to-day activities of the people, rather than their history. Mainly American tribes. Average reading level.

Smith, I.N. (Ed.)

The Unbelievable Land
(articles by 29 experts on life in the Arctic)
Queen's Printer for the Dept. of Northern Affairs and National Resources, and the Northern Service of the CBC, Ottawa
1964 (Reprinted '65, '66)

Excellent fictional depth study of life in the Arctic. This series of 6 books by 29 experts has a reading level for advanced Seventh Graders. Focus on human geography lends itself to skill development. Good illustrations.

Teacher References for Grade VII Social Studies

Berndt, R.M. & C.H.

The World of the First Australians
University of Chicago Press
5801 Ellis Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60637
1964

A very comprehensive study of aboriginal life in Australia - a very useful reading for a Grade VII Social Studies teacher. Difficult reading for average Grade VII student.

Brown, I.C.

Understanding Other Cultures
Prentice-Hall of Canada Ltd.
1870 Birchmount Road
Scarborough 706, Ontario
1963 $2.45

The author examines the many different ways that various societies approach and solve the problems common to all human beings: food, clothing, shelter, family, sex, art, religion and values. Numerous examples from cultures all over the globe serve to aid a student's understanding of the cultural universals. The author notes that if we are to live in a world of different peoples, we must find out what common ground there is among human beings of different lands, what our differences are, how fundamental such differences are, and how they can either be resolved or lived with.

Carter, G.F.

Man and the Land, A Cultural Geography
Holt, Rinehart & Winston of Canada Ltd.
55 Horner Avenue
Toronto 18, Ontario 1968

Text - $14.30 Study Guide - $4.95 Inst.'s Man. - $2.05

Collier-Macmillan Canada Ltd.
539 Collier-Macmillan Drive
Galt, Ontario
1970 - $8.80
Japan: Unit 6 Teacher's Kit

Japan is the one regional unit in the course. Mostly a geographic study. First a filmstrip is used to compare Japan and North America and then the students consider traditional and modern aspects of Japanese life. The major part of the unit is an investigation of Japan's growth during the last hundred years, for which students use data presented in graphic, tabular, and map form. Students are challenged to explain how Japan has been able to modernize so effectively in such a short period of time. Subsequently, the relevance of the Japanese experience for underdeveloped countries is discussed. Suitable for average readers.

Student References for Grade IX Social Studies

Alexander, R.J.

Today's Latin America (Revised Edition)
Doubleday Publishers
105 Bond Street
Toronto 200, Ontario
1968 $1.95

An excellent student resource book. A wealth of background information on such Latin American subjects as labour, politics, the educational system, the military, the church and culture.

American Educational Publications

Changing Latin America
American Educational Publications
Education Centre
Columbus, Ohio 43216
1968 $0.50

This is quite workable - using a problems approach. Students find this quite easy to handle, while at the same time it forces students to go to secondary sources.

Babian, H.

World Areas Today
Longman Canada Ltd.
55 Barber Greene Road
Don Mills, Ontario
$2.50
Latin America

Although emphasis is on the struggle for economic development, main historical, sociological and political trends are examined. Pictures, charts, maps and tables.

Scarborough 733, Ontario
1971
The Soviet Union - $1.40
Brazil - $1.20

The book looks at Soviet Union and Brazil through the eyes of the historian, geographer, sociologist and political scientist. No index. A good resource for the less able student.

Fenton, E.
(General Ed.)

Tradition and Change in Brazil - An Inquiry Approach
Holt, Rinehart & Winston of Canada Ltd.
55 Horner Avenue
Toronto 18, Ontario
1968

An excellent book for the study of cultural processes in Brazil. This book can be made even more useful in that it includes a strategy for the improvement of reading and research skills which can be employed during the consideration of the content. Also, very thought-provoking in that it includes a series of articles by persons involved in the Brazilian culture in varying degrees. That is, the book contains views and impressions of people varying from firsthand participants to casual, foreign observers. Basically, a very thorough analysis of the elements making up the Brazilian culture today. The reading level of the book varies from article to article.

Folsom, F.

The Soviet Union: A View from Within
Thomas Nelson & Sons (Canada) Ltd.
81 Curlew Drive
Don Mills, Ontario
1965 $5.95

The author has attempted to present a picture of life in the U.S.S.R. "as it must appear to a young person born there". The book includes a brief geography, a look at the people, their occupations and government organization. The quantity and quality of illustrations used in this depth study book is very good. Reading level is very easy.

Gunther, J.

RECOMMENDED RESOURCES FOR SOCIAL STUDIES

SOCIAL STUDIES 10 RESOURCE MATERIALS

Print Materials

The following references, listed alphabetically by authors, are recommended as useful resource materials. The lists are not to be considered exhaustive, and teachers should feel free to use other references which they consider useful in fulfilling the objectives of their social studies program. Supplementary lists of other useful references may be issued from time to time.

The prices listed are approximate and subject to change.

Non-Print Materials

A listing of recommended non-print materials is to be issued when a survey and assessment of available materials has been completed. In the meantime, it is suggested that schools exercise caution in the purchase of materials without a careful assessment of their usefulness.

For a listing of films, filmstrips, audio-tapes, and video-tapes, teachers are referred to the catalogs of the Audio-Visual Services Branch, Department of Education, or to the catalogs of the instructional media centres in their own school system.

Teachers are reminded that they are responsible to their employing school board for all materials used in the classroom.

NOTE: In the resource lists which follow, series titles have been included, where applicable, to facilitate ordering of specific reference works. The listing of a series title does not necessarily mean that the entire series is being recommended.

Millard, M.A. & A.K. Mitchell

Economics: A Search for Patterns
Gage Educational Publishing Ltd.
P.O. Box 5000
164 Commander Boulevard
Agincourt, Ontario
1971 A very well set up and attractive book. Its immediate visual impact is positive. The cartoons, diagrams, charts, newspaper clippings and pictures are well-chosen and helpful. The reading level would be average to above and for those who want their economic treatment to flow inductively or deductively they will find some frustration in its arrangement. The student could start almost anywhere in the book and many segments stand alone. It is best used as a resource book rather than an all-inclusive narrative.

Canada: A Regional Analysis
J. M. Dent & Sons (Canada) Ltd.
100 Scarsdale Road
Don Mills, Ontario
1970 390 pp. Hardcover - $7.50

This book aptly points out the importance of geography as a means of gaining new insights into the growth and development of Canada. Particular emphasis has been placed upon the background of human geography, especially on the growth of population, and the development of industries in various parts of the country. It has several hundred illustrations of various kinds - tables, maps, diagrams, graphs, and photographs - which should prove helpful in the understanding of the many concepts peculiar to a region as vast and diversified as Canada. The table of contents is well sub-divided into many topics to assist the reader in quickly locating information not readily available from conventional sources. It is well worth having a copy or two in each classroom and library.

Readings in Canadian Civics
Ryerson Press
299 Queen Street W.
Toronto 133, Ontario
1968 $3.50

This book contains a collection of documents and readings concerning the government of Canada. The book is designed around six major areas of concern: Historical background; the parliamentary system; local government; the judiciary; the financing of government and some of the principles upon which our government is based. Some items are practical, some are theoretical: some topics are dealt with fully, others merely attempt to raise questions and stimulate inquiry. For better readers.

25 Hollinger Road
Toronto 374, Ontario
1969 Six Paperbacks Complete Set - $2.95 Each - $0.50

An inquiry into problems related to Canadian Unity prepared by journalists for the Toronto Telegram. Research for the series was done through interviews and a sixteen-part questionnaire used across Canada. A special questionnaire was used in Quebec. Some of the questions included were:

(1) What is the greatest threat to Canada's survival as a nation?
(2) What are your feelings about the Monarchy?
(3) How would you feel about Canada joining the U.S.A.?
(4) What are the chief weaknesses of Confederation?
(5) Can Canada survive as a nation without Quebec?

How Are We Governed?
Clarke, Irwin & Co. Ltd.
Clarwin House
791 St. Clair Avenue W.
Toronto 347, Ontario
1961 171 pp. Paperback - $1.95

Although the chapter headings reflect the traditional approach to the study of Canadian government, the style of writing and the numerous political cartoons should appeal to most students interested in our perplexing democratic processes. More emphasis is placed upon how Canadian government actually does work rather than how it is supposed to work. Considerable attention has been given to the striking changes in government and politics over the past decade - minority governments, the revolution in Quebec, federal-provincial tensions, and the rule of law. The book concludes with an interesting comparison of Canadian, British and American governments. Average reading level.

Our Provincial Government - (Latest edition)

Willows, D. & S. Richmond

Canada, Colony to Centennial
McGraw-Hill Company of Canada
330 Progress Avenue
Scarborough 707, Ontario
1970 $3.96

A history of Canada by two Alberta teachers. The narrative is liberally sprinkled with documentary excerpts and illustrations. The major themes are exploration, settlement, social and political development. Crises, issues, and values have been emphasized instead of isolated facts. Useful suggestions for students' research and discussion are provided at the end of each chapter. Written with the interests of the junior high student in mind the reading level should be easy for Grade X.

Canadian History in Documents (1763-1966)
Ryerson Press
299 Queen Street W.
Toronto 133, Ontario
1966 397 pp. Paperback - $3.50

Teachers will undoubtedly find that many of their brighter students will take a special interest in the study of primary sources and original documents from Canadian history. Each document selected by the author is accompanied by appropriate background information so that the document's significance becomes apparent. The topics chosen for documentary study include not only those of a conventional. political and constitutional nature, but the more contemporary issues such as racism, unity, economics, regionalism, and U.S.-Canadian relations are given considerable attention. Probably at least one-half of the documents are not contained in any other anthology currently in print, and a few documents are published here for the first time. A copy or two or this book should be considered for every classroom and library.

Two Canadian writers - one English, one French - cover many of the issues that divide Canada. In an exchange of twenty frank letters each writer expresses with deep personal feelings such issues as the prejudice against the French language outside Quebec; the backwardness and political corruption that has afflicted Quebec; the indifference of English Quebeckers to the French; the conscription issue, the divorce-law quarrels, and many others. They both search for tolerance, understanding, and ways to improve relations between the English and French. An effective way of communicating with two opposing groups.

Particular emphasis is given to the issues in Canadian federalism as created by Quebec in the period from 1960 to 1967. The concluding sections deal with some of the present unresolved issues in Canadian federalism as well as presenting alternatives for the future. This book may be somewhat difficult for the average Grade X student.

Thorburn, H.G.

Party Politics in Canada
Prentice-Hall of Canada Ltd.
1870 Birchmount Road
Scarborough 706, Ontario
1967 232 pp. Paperback - $3.95

At least one book on Canadian political parties deserves a place in every High School Library. This selection of essays deals with the history, structure, philosophies, campaigns and functions of Canadian party politics. Several authors treat the subject in a variety of ways. For example, the tensions between the federal and provincial levels of the Progressive Conservative Party are brought to light. An up-to-date picture of the New Democratic Party is presented. Of particular interest to Albertans is an analysis of the Social Credit movement. A book that would appeal to the better students.
